SE92B
Emergency Glass Break Door Release Switch

• The emergency release glass break alarm button is suitable for the exit door and emergency door.
• Just break the face-plate glass of the alarm button in strength, then can make conflagration signal sending to the controller.
• Made of durable plastic shell and easy to install. Use the fireproof material, accord with the safe request.
• Supports electrical control or access control system.
• Sandblast panel with elegant style. Best protector in home, shop and other places.